Code centre crumbling

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE home of the codebreakers, Bletchley Park, is in danger of falling apart unless it can raise millions of pounds.

Milton Keynes' most important historical site is in danger of crumbling if serious financial backing is not found within four years, according to Bletchley Park Trust Director, Simon Greenish.

The site is recognised by historians for its vital role in helping the Allies to win the war but Bletchley Park Trust has no money to fix its rotting buildings and museum.

Yesterday Mr Greenish told MK NEWS that he is searching for a way to finance the maintenance.

He said: "It's a race to make sure we get the buildings sorted out before we end up with bigger problems. If the mansion continues to deteriorate there will come a time when it will be a risk.

"We run the museum on a shoestring basis. We need millions of pounds to help sort it out.

"In four years we must have solved these problems because otherwise we'll lose historic buildings."

While the site is now home to a museum it was once the secret base for Churchill's codebreakers.

Nine thousand staff worked around the clock to break the German codes and intercept critical enemy manoeuvres.

But while visitor numbers continue to grow the future is uncertain for one of Britain's most important historical sites.

Staff at the Trust are busily planning a fundraising programme which will launch later this year and seeks to gain the attention of a worldwide audience.

Today MK NEWS announces its backing for the project.

Mr Greenish said: "Your support is greatly appreciated.

"This is a site of international value right in the middle of Milton Keynes.

"It's taken the trust 15 years to get ownership of the site and they have never been able to get enough money to deal with the infrastructure."

The buildings under threat include Bletchley Park Mansion which is undergoing repairs to its roof to stop rainwater coming in – but this is soaking up scarce funds. Even more disturbing is the state of two of the hole-ridden huts, including Hut 6, where German Army and Air Force Enigma machine ciphers were cracked.

Mr Greenish said: "They are two of the most important temporary buildings in the world, where the whole process of code breaking changed.

"Two of the huts are in a very poor state - they are rotten.

"Hut 6 won't survive two or three years."

The Trust is renewing its case for support from the Heritage Lottery Fund and has also considered re appealing to the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Wheelchair mum guilty of wounding

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A WHEELCHAIR-BOUND woman has been convicted after helping to kidnap a man and chop off his thumb in revenge over a drugs debt.

C J Gulwell, 45, of Franklins Croft, Wolverton, was found guilty of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm after admitting to the kidnapping of Craig Green.

The victim was driven to the tenth tee at Woburn Golf and Country Club and stripped to his underpants before having the top part of his thumb removed with a hammer and chisel.

CJ Gulwell appeared at Oxford Crown Court on Monday alongside Luke Gates, 18, and Andrew Brown, 18, who were found guilty of kidnapping and wounding with intent to cause GBH.

Her 24-year-old son, Jason Gulwell, had pleaded guilty to both charges at an earlier hearing.

Prosecution lawyer Michael Fowler QC told the court that Mr Green had been lured to C J Gulwell's house on November 1, 2007, where he was accused of stealing £4,000 of cannabis and owing her money for a car.

She announced they were 'going for a trip' and Mr Green was marched out of the house to her car.

Mr Fowler said: "He was kidnapped and assaulted in the most barbaric of ways. He was taken to a remote part of Woburn golf course and with the use of a hammer and chisel his thumb was taken off from below the joint."

It took more than six attempts to cut off the thumb.

The prosecution said that although C J Gulwell stayed behind in the car that she knew what was going to happen.

"It was her revenge being carried out," Mr Fowler said.

Craig Green was left with permanent damage to his eye socket and the nerves on his left side of the face after the beating he received from Jason Gulwell and Gates in the rear of the car. He is undergoing constructive surgery and will need a prosthetic thumb.

Sentencing will take place in June.

Council leader hangs on

THE leader of Milton Keynes Council has hung on to her job.

Liberal Democrat Isobel McCall came under fire at last night's annual council meeting with opposition parties baying for her to be replaced.

The meeting was set to decide which party would rule the council, who would lead it and who would form the cabinet.

The close finish of the recent local elections left the leadership of the local authority precarious, as the Liberal Democrats hold only one more seat than the Conservatives.

Cllr McCall received 21 votes, Andrew Geary 20 and Norman Miles 8 for the leadership as each party voted for their own leader.

It now means the Conservatives could push for a change in the authority's constitution to enable them to replace her at a later date.

Speaking before the meeting Conservative leader Cllr Geary said: "We are resolutely behind the line that because the Liberal Democrats are the largest group they should properly form the administration.

"But either they find a new leader or they will have to resign the administration, as the current leader is not acceptable to the majority of the council."

Labour leader Norman Miles added "Both my party and the Conservatives have made it clear that the present leader of the council, having received a vote of no confidence in March, is not acceptable."

Speaking before the meeting Cllr McCall said: "My group have made it clear that they are behind me and they don't want anyone else.

"If there will be a Liberal Democrat administration it will be under my leadership, or there won't be a Liberal Democrat administration."

The cabinet will now be made up of the three party leaders.

Killing manslaughter, not murder

A MAN has been convicted of manslaughter after a jury decided he did not murder his flatmate in a brutal stabbing.

Eric Erron Johnson, 23, was cleared of murder yesterday after telling the court that he stabbed David Williams in self defence.

The jury returned a unanimous verdict of not guilty of murder but guilty of the alternative charge of manslaughter.

Judge Phillip Clegg said: "The only sentence will be one of custody. I am quite satisfied that the deceased did pick up a knife in the course of the fight and the defendant stabbed him wildly, with no particular care where he hit him but with no intent to cause serious harm."

Thirty-year-old David Williams died on August 3 last year at his home in Oldbrook Boulevard, Oldbrook.

Johnson admitted in court that he was a drug dealer and said Williams let him stay at the flat in return for supplying him with crack cocaine.

He frequently wore a combined knuckle duster and knife in a pouch round his neck.

Prosecutor John Denniss said that tension had built up between the two men and Johnson was preparing to move out.

"His pride and joy was a Prada mobile phone worth about £500 which he alleged Mr. Williams had taken along with some of his heroin," said Mr. Denniss.

Johson told the court Mr Williams had picked up a kitchen knife and swung it at him during a fight.

"He prodded me in the stomach with the mop handle," Johnson said. Then he stretched towards the work top and grabbed a kitchen knife. He swung it towards me so I pulled out my knife.

"I thought if I did not retaliate I would be killed.

"I did not realise I had stabbed him twice until I saw the post mortem reports."

Johnson fled the scene with his dog, to Devonport Road, London, but was arrested a few weeks later.

He will be sentenced after reports are prepared.

This 1961 Aston Martin DB4GT coupe fetched more than £1million at auction on Saturday

Aston Martin sale tops £4,700,000

– and Rowan Atkinson didn't spend a bean

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

Rowan Atkinson chats to Jessica Cunniffe at the Aston Martin auction in Newport Pagnell

BLACKADDER and Mr Bean star Rowan Atkinson was in his element on Saturday when he spent the day in Newport Pagnell.

Car collector Mr Atkinson, reportedly once Britain's highest paid actor, was at the ninth annual Aston Martin Lagonda auction in the town.

The Aston-obsessed A-lister, who has owned several of the cars over the years, sold one of his collection for £122,500.

And though he had his eye on a four-door Lagonda, he did not drive home in any purchases.

Car fanatics from around the world, from as far as Latvia, Japan and Australia, came to the home of Aston Martin, to bid and buy.

It was the best ever sale for Bonhams auctioneers in Newport Pagnell, reaching £4.7million – more than double last year's total.

The top sale was the 1961 Aston DB4GT coupe which fetched more than £1million.

Mr Atkinson told MK News: "It's great here. It's always a very engaging event.

"For me, Aston Martins are a very important part of my life. For the first time I'm not distracted with other things. I used to come here a lot. I have owned six or seven Aston Martins over the years.

"It's a shame that the production has moved, but the company has a history of moving premises. I think this may be the third or fourth time it has."

■ At the auction, bricks from the demolished car factory were being sold to raise money for Willen Hospice at a minimum of £25 each.

But when 900 of the 1,500 bricks were sold and 600 were left over an anonymous international Aston enthusiast sheikh stepped in and bought the remainder.

Willen spokesman Melanie Fletcher said the hospice is grateful to everyone who bought bricks, including the anonymous donor who got 600 of them.

"What he wants to do with them I do not know," she added.

Two bricks from the rubble – numbered 007 and 1,500 – were sold by Bonhams, the company auctioning the cars, each raising £5,750. This will go to the Aston Martin Heritage Trust.

Council breaks own rules on siting of wind turbines

MILTON Keynes Council has recommended wind turbines are built within 80 metres of homes – contravening its own rule to put them no closer than 350 metres.

Five 'Quiet Revolution' wind turbines, which are 14 metres tall, are proposed for the third phase of Hazeley Secondary School's development.

The report recommending that the council's development control committee approves the plans admits there is 'technically a conflict with local plan policy'.

Ten letters of objection were submitted to the council regarding implications for residents in terms of health, noise and appearance, as well as the impact on wildlife.

There was just one letter of support received by the head teacher of Hazeley School stating the turbines would provide sustainable energy and also be a learning tool.

However, council officers have decided that the environmental benefits to the country outweigh the reservations of the community.

They have recommended planning permission be granted by tomorrow night's committee.

Mike Bailey, of Garwood Crescent, believes the turbines would affect his home.

He said: "I'm not a NIMBY and I'm not against turbines provided they are safe. I am more aggrieved that the council hasn't had the courtesy to properly consult us."

Cllr Don Hoyle, who represents the ward, said: "I'm outraged. This thing should have been more widely done and letters sent to more people otherwise it will have slipped through the net."

Artistically bankrupt – but there's Monet in it

SIR – Having read your article in MK NEWS about the Cathy Wilkes exhibit being nominated for the Turner Prize I can only conclude that we in Great Britain have completely lost our way with regard to what is art.

Your article stated that the Turner Prize 'has become widely recognised as one of the most important and prestigious awards for the visual arts in Europe'.

The Turner Prize really epitomises how much we have become artistically bankrupt in this country!

How anybody in their right mind can conclude that a cow cut in half and pickled in formaldehyde; a pile of bricks; an unmade bed; a few splodges of colour on a canvas or a line of fluorescent tubes buried in the floor can possibly qualify as art totally escapes me.

I am no great lover of so-called modern art but give me a Henry Moore or Barbara Hepworth any day!

It seems to me that those who award this much maligned prize are nothing more than a bunch of pseudo-intellectuals pandering to a bunch of pseudo-artists and trying to convince the rest of us that this so-called modern art is more than modern junk which it patently isn't!

To be honest, I have seen better forms of art churned out by semi-trained chimpanzees with a paintbrush than some of the stuff that we are subjected to by this so-called prize.

Please do not insult our intelligence by trying to convince us that this garbage is art.

If you want to see art look at Moore, Hepworth, Monet, Michelangelo, Dali and the hundreds of other artists and sculptors who will probably never get a showing because they are not 'controversial' enough.

If you want to see real art visit the next craft exhibition that comes to Milton Keynes, you will see real talent there.

I am probably a lone voice crying in the wilderness but I cannot believe that I am the only one who feels this way.

I object to people who wouldn't know a Monet from a Matisse telling me that this or that is a great work of art when all I can see is a pile of junk.

Get real – let's stop this pretentious claptrap and get back to what is REAL art.

Name and address supplied

SIR – 'Confused' can be the only description of Cllr Don Hoyle.

As a Conservative and a member of THE sell-off party, how can he oppose the privatisation of the Post Office?

How can he support the non-viability of businesses; namely local Post Offices?

If he wants to keep local offices open then he should join with the trade unions and others who are opposing closures.

That would put him to the left of Labour.

He seems to be against the European Union, so he's to the far right of his own party.

He alludes to Phyllis Starkey MP as a 'has-been'.

That's a relief, at least she isn't a 'never-was'.

Can anybody help Cllr Hoyle before he contorts himself into an embarrassing and extremely uncomfortable position?

Artists through history Turner in their graves

Windows a pain

SIR – I am writing in reply to the letters from Cllr Liz Campbell, M Longmuir and Mr & Mrs Malone.

I do sympathise with you regarding your windows and may I just add a couple of points as to why this petition occurred.

There was a property that put in for planning permission for an extension to their house

The first time it was refused by MKC and the local Town Council. They then put in a readmission which was refused. MKC did a site visit, which Cllr Chris Williams took part in.

One of the objections was the loss of light from one of the neighbourhood houses and also the parking issues.

Cllr Williams said the lack of light was caused by the small windows and did not realise it was a council tenant he was talking about.

The council is under immense pressure to let people have planning permission, as if it goes to an appeal MKC could then drop down in the league table and lose money.

This could possibly lead to it not making the right decisions, but to think if it had refused the said planning permission then there would not have been the uproar there is now.

In the long run it could end up costing the council more money than because of a worry of league tables, when councillors make their decision they should be doing it on merit and not dependent as to whether it will affect their league table status.

Secondly, since the petition we have found that windows are also rotten, mouldy and broken, it turns out when they were put in it was a quick bodge job, so that is something else that has come out of this.

Also I would love to go and sit in my back garden and enjoy the sunlight, but that will be impossible when the light has been taken off us by this extension.

If some people think that Cllr Williams' comments were not correct then perhaps his report of the site visit was not correct

He did presume there was not a traffic problem, but when he arrived it was school half term, so if one judgment may be wrong then perhaps his report was wrong.

Frustrated at lack of ME knowledge

SIR – On reading the article about the lack of ME specialists in Milton Keynes I realised how lucky, or unlucky, my granddaughter is.

She became poorly last August. After two or three visits to her GP she was referred to a consultant at MK Hospital. By February this year, after countless tests, she was diagnosed with ME (chronic fatigue syndrome).

So in fact she was lucky to be diagnosed so fast but unlucky because she has this awful condition.

I understand why young people are not being diagnosed early, the reason my granddaughter was is because she was only nine-years - old and the consultant we saw was well informed about ME.

In fact within weeks she was having physio and later hydro sessions all put in place by the consultant.

As a family we are grateful for the support we have received but it is problems with other agencies that leaves us frustrated.

My granddaughter has been refused disability living allowance as she only uses a wheelchair because she gets 'tired' – do you know of any ten-year-old who would rather sit in a wheelchair than be an active child?

Do these agencies know that along with the fatigue come joint pains, cramps and balance problems along with sensitivity to light and noise with feelings of extreme cold and heat? Seems not.

In a ten-year-old child ME causes isolation. My granddaughter is unable to cope with school for any length of time. Her friends cannot understand this condition, along with adults, so she leads quite a lonely life.

Her education is lacking because the education authority does not provide home tutors.

My heart goes out to those young sufferers who find it difficult to be diagnosed and who have not had the support we have had.

If we had been told we would have to travel to London it would have been an impossible journey for us.

Woburn Lionesses after winning the league in May

Butlins trip denies champs cup win

THE Football Association has been called in to resolve a fixture row that has upset supporters of grass roots football in Milton Keynes.

A group of 11-year-old girls from Milton Keynes has fallen victim to bureaucracy.

Woburn Lionesses Under-12s were fighting to complete a league and cup double during their first season in the Milton Keynes & District Junior 7's League.

But a pre-arranged tour to a national tournament at Butlins, Skegness, meant they would not be able to play in the cup final.

Despite pleas from both finalists for the cup decider to be rescheduled, the league ruled that the game would go ahead.

The club was told it would forfeit the cup and receive a fine if it did not take part.

As a result the Lionesses could only field five players who had remained behind and crashed to a 5-1 defeat to Heelands Rangers on Saturday.

Bucks Football Association will now meet with the league and the club to act as peacemaker and resolve the dispute.

Helen Woodman, whose daughter missed the final, said: "The league was made aware the club was on tour but they were adamant they wouldn't reschedule it. The girls play with a strong sense of fair play but this flies in the face of that. My daughter has been denied the chance to play in a cup final. It's bureaucratic nonsense and it's put a complete dampener on the season.

"I went to the final to support the five girls who were left here - they were absolute heroes."

Heelands Rangers were at full strength for the match at Woburn Playing Fields.

Holiday bathroom slip caused death

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN died while on holiday in Spain after slipping and hitting his head in a hotel bathroom, an inquest has heard.

Robert Gillingwater, 61, from Perran Avenue, Fishermead died in a hospital in Barcelona on January 16.

The retired builder, right, had been on holiday with his daughter, Dionne Gillingwater, over Christmas in a hotel just outside the city.

The pair were due to return home on December 27, but that morning Dionne found him unconscious on the bathroom floor. He appeared to have slipped on the wet tiles and hit his head against the wash basin, which was dislodged by the blow, Monday's inquest heard.

He was taken to hospital where he was in a coma until January 10.

The Spanish medical staff operated on a blood clot in his brain.

Dr E Thway, consultant pathologist, said he died of heart failure caused by heart disease and clogged arteries and that his death was contributed to by bleeding in his brain.

The inquest heard he had suffered from heart problems for some time and was overweight.

Coroner Rodney Corner gave a verdict that he died of natural causes associated with a heavy fall.

Mr Gillingwater, who lived in Fishermead for 27 years, had four children and six grandchildren.

His wife Irene, who suffered from cancer, died three years ago.

His son, Tony Gillingwater, said: "He was a lovely granddad to the kids."

He said he was also a keen bowls player as a member of the Beavers Bowls Club in Bradville and featured as Father Christmas for two years at Milton Keynes Museum in Wolverton.

Commuters hit by double signal trouble

COMMUTERS faced a double whammy of rail chaos last week.

Signalling problems on Thursday meant Virgin Train and London Midland services on the West Cost Mainline – on which trains run from Milton Keynes to London – were cancelled or altered, leaving passengers stranded for up to two hours.

Then on Friday signalling problems again disrupted Virgin services.

The fiasco followed the power failures on May 6 which disrupted the journeys of thousands of passengers.

One commuter, who has been travelling from Milton Keynes to London for 18 years said: "I couldn't go to work at all on Thursday.

"The signals were down again and it was chaotic.

"For the past two years it has been lovely but now it is going back to how it was.

"But it's not as bad as it was ten years ago."

An annual gold card for train use between Milton Keynes and Euston with tube travel now costs £4,425.

Oakhill centre is ordered to improve staff training

Minister demands improvements after report disclosed a 'staggering use of force by staff'

THE private firm which runs young offenders' centre Oakhill has been ordered to improve staff training and other failings.

Prisons minister David Hanson said STC Milton Keynes Ltd, which runs the Oakhill site, had been issued with rectification notices by the Youth Justice Board.

He said: "Rectification will include improvement in the number and training of staff provided and the education service."

The call follows an independent report which MK NEWS revealed in March which highlighted a 'staggering use of force by staff'.

The annual inspection of Oakhill Secure Training Centre (STC) by Ofsted and the prisons inspectorate found that some teachers were visibly frightened of children.

At the time director Malcolm Stevens told this newspaper that the report lacked context and insisted that it is too late to temporarily close the centre.

'Teachers visibly frightened': Oakhill secure training centre

Last year MK NEWS revealed a string of concerns from whistleblowers inside Oakhill.

A hostage situation, children swallowing bleach and staff shortages were some of the allegations that led staff to refer to it as "Jokehill".

The Ofsted report showed there were 377 assaults on staff in the first nine months of last year.

Force was used 757 times in nine months to control children.

The centre, opened by G4S in 2004 on a 25-year contract, is supposed to cater for 80 boys and girls aged 12-17.

But Mr Stevens said closure was not an option and the Ofsted report had been 'hijacked' by prison inspectors who had never been there before.

He said: "There is no point closing it now. That might have been an option last July but that sort of thinking is history now.

"Some members of staff have been dismissed because they've been heavy handed with children and I can't tolerate that.

"Turning these centre's around is difficult. We have to change the minds of staff from a prison culture to one you would expect to see in a children's home."

Chief Inspector of Prisons, Anne Owers, said in her report: "It might be more realistic to empty the centre briefly so it can be re-launched with a properly trained and reinvigorated staff".

Mr Stevens admitted the number of restraints (physical control in care) was high.

"It was far too high and that was my focus when I got here," he said.

"The three previous inspections were all critical but at least this one showed some progress."

The report said there were some signs of improvement, including recruiting experienced staff, but education and training continues to be inadequate.

Mr Stevens said he wants to transform the centre from a 'punishment culture' to a culture which rewards progress and believes it will take until July to complete the transition.

When asked if he thought staff at Oakhill should be paid more, Mr Stevens said: "I think they probably should be. It would be nice for them to be paid more because they do a fantastic job.

"People are starting to enjoy life here."

Martin and Diana Stott hold a picture of Simon

Sectioned son in hospital slated by health watchdog

THE parents of a mentally vulnerable man are angry he has been detained in a heavily-criticised hospital by Milton Keynes social services.

Simon Stott, 21, an autism and Asperger's syndrome sufferer who has the mental age of a seven-year-old, was sectioned under the Mental Health Act on April 15 after an altercation with his father at their home in Weavers Hill, Fullers Slade.

Mr Stott, who moved in with his father two years ago, was detained at Milton Park Independent Hospital in Wyboston, near Bedford.

His parents, Martin and Diana, then discovered the hospital had been slammed by a Healthcare Commission report last year.

The watchdog revealed that various areas of practice did not reach the minimum standards, such as an absence of Criminal Records Bureau checks on staff, areas in the hospital had not been well-maintained, cleanliness standards had not been met and 'untoward incidents' had not been properly reported.

As a result, MP for Bedfordshire Alistair Burt even called for the hospital to be closed down.

Despite the fact that a subsequent report has shown the hospital to be greatly improved, Mrs Stott is desperate for her son to be released and cared for in Manchester where she lives.

"My poor son, he's so frightened," she said.

"He wants to go back to Manchester. He is a young man who is a threat to nobody.

"For him to be treated in this way and put in this hospital is terrible.

"They gave us no opportunity to find Simon somewhere to go."

Social services in the city are run by Milton Keynes Mental Health Team, which is a joint agency run by Milton Keynes Council and the Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust.

A council spokesman said he was unable to comment on individual cases.

City MEP makes air miles top ten

25,928 fact finding miles cost taxpayers £12,350

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

AN MEP representing Milton Keynes has racked up the ninth most air miles out of the UK's 78 members.

Member of the European Parliament for south east England, Nirj Deva, has cost taxpayers £12,350 after flying 25,928 miles on so-called fact-finding missions.

In an investigation conducted by the News of the World, he was ranked 9th worst out of MEPs covering the United Kingdom.

As vice-chairman of the delegation for relations with south east Asia it is his job to travel to the continent in order to smooth relations between EU countries and places such as Bangladesh, Bhutan, Sri Lanka, the Maldives, Nepal and Pakistan.

Vital missions: MEP Nirj Deva

Being a member of the African, Caribbean and Pacific Joint Parliamentary Assembly also gives rise to further globe trotting.

The investigation found that since 2004 tours such as this have cost EU taxpayers £3.1million.

Spokesman for Mr Deva, Daniel Hamilton, said: "On the face of it, whilst the destination of some of Nirj's trips may admittedly appear far-flung and exotic, they should in no way be considered 'junkets' or 'holidays' but rather vital missions in his capacity as the European Parliament's leading expert on International Development matters.

"He strongly supports making efficiency savings in the Parliament's travel budget in order to save taxpayers money and, where possible, prefers for summits and meetings to take place at the Parliament's offices in Brussels as opposed to abroad."

Mr Deva's researcher, Daniel Hamilton, said that he cannot remember exactly which of these places Mr Deva has visited, but recalls that he has definitely been to Barbados.

The MEP was unavailable for comment because he is currently working in Boston – USA, that is, not Lincolnshire.

Sites identified for public beach

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

PLANS to build a beach in Milton Keynes moved a step closer as three potential sites have been revealed.

Two local parks and one district park, which feature in blueprints for the town's western expansion area, have been earmarked for the beach by planners at Milton Keynes Council.

The project is the brainchild of Great Linford pensioner Anita Rose who is working tirelessly to secure financial backing for a public beach.

The first site would be available from 2010 and is in the north corner of the expansion site, just off the V4 Watling Street, adjacent to Two Mile Ash.

The other two are further south, close to the village of Upper Wield.

A letter from Peter Smettem, valuer to Milton Keynes Council, said: "Everyone I have spoken to considers that a properly thought out, funded and managed beach would be a great asset for Milton Keynes. There is no reason why there shouldn't be more than one beach and it might be that the first site is used to test demand."

Mr Smettem stressed the need for the beach to become part of the designated parks, not the sole use.

Milton Keynes Parks Trust would lease the beach to a company set up to establish and run it.

However, the availability of space will depend on the disposal of land for residential development.

Mrs Rose says she has confirmed a major backer and has appealed to leading businessmen in the area for support.

Great Linford pensioner Anita Rose: Working to secure financial backing

She said: "I've got backers who will now have to look at the plans and help me to design the beach."

Developers will be expected to provide a business plan, identify the size of the beach and water features and liaise with Milton Keynes Partnership on design issues.

Knifepoint mobile robbery

A MAN was robbed of his mobile phone and wallet at knifepoint in Fishermead.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the robbery which occurred on Thursday, May 8.

Around 11pm the victim crossed the footbridge in to Pencarrow Place and noticed two men near the end of the bridge.

The two men began to follow the victim on to Pencarrow Place close to Gurnards Avenue when one of the men demanded his mobile phone.

The victim refused and the offender pulled out a knife from inside his jacket.

The victim handed over his black Sony Ericcson mobile phone and the offender demanded his wallet and cigarettes, which he handed over.

The two men then ran off across the road towards Penryn Avenue and Pentewan Gate.

The victim was not injured but left shocked and shaken.

The first offender, who held the knife, is white, approximately 18-20 years old, around 5ft 6ins and was wearing square, silver framed glasses and a black hooded top.

The second offender is white, between 18-20 years old, approximately 5ft 6ins and slim. He was wearing a black hooded top.

Anyone who witnessed the robbery or has any information can contact PC Chris Smith on 0845 8 505 505, or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Woman's car is blocked in city break-in attempt

A MAN tried to break into a woman's car as she drove through the city centre last week.

The woman was driving along Silbury Boulevard near Campbell Park at 4.15pm on Wednesday, May 14.

Another vehicle stopped in front of her car causing her to stop and a white male got out and tried to get into her vehicle.

The doors of her car were locked and she was able to pull onto the kerb and drove away.

Thieves target tax discs in spate of vehicle break-ins

SIX vehicles have been broken into for their tax discs since the beginning of this month.

Police are urging members of the public to be vigilant following the thefts across Milton Keynes.

The latest incident took place on Wednesday, May 14 where offenders smashed the front window of a vehicle in Delaware Road, Tongwell and made off with the tax disc.

Detective Constable Greg Hughes said: "Whoever is committing these offences really is wasting their time.

"We have robust systems in place to identify if a vehicle has valid tax.

"Officers can easily find out if the tax disc on display is valid or stolen.

"We will increase patrols in the areas we believe are being targeted and we would ask the public, particularly those working on trading estates, to be vigilant."

Anyone who sees anything suspicious or has information can call 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Design student picks up top national award

A DESIGN student has been awarded for using his skills to help people suffering from post-traumatic amnesia.

Alex Ostrowski, 21, from Simpson Road, Simpson has won a national competition for the 2007/8 RSA Design Directions award which encourages social responsibility in young designers.

Alex was previously featured in MK NEWS in September after his band Kotki Dwa won a competition to have one of its tracks played next to a piece of art at the Tate Modern.

A man of many talents, the third year graphic design student at the University of the West of England in Bristol has now been awarded for his work with psychologists at the Frenchay Brain Injury Rehabilitation Centre in the city.

He used design to help patients suffering from post-traumatic amnesia to find their way around the hospital unit and recognise staff and designed a book to document the project.

Alex's idea was to create a colour-coded system where staff in similar roles wore the same colour, that colour was used on the timetable for patients' appointments, and rooms would also be colour-coded according to their use.

So if a nurse is dressed in green, an appointment with the nurse would be coloured green on the timetable and the nurse's room would be green.

Although the hospital has not been able to implement all of his ideas, due to funding, Alex said his project has drawn attention to the issue.

"They are now having specific sessions of orientation," he said.

His work has won the NESTA award worth £2,000 from the RSA (Royal Society for the encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce).

Winner: Alex Ostrowski

This will enable him to fund a move to London on graduation to pursue his career in graphic design.

His work will go on display, along with other winners, in an RSA Design Directions Awards Online Exhibition soon at www.rsadesigndirections.org.

Over 1100 students entered this year's competition and previous winners include Jonathan Ive, designer of the iPod, and fashion designer, Betty Jackson.

Alex's work has also been nominated for the D&AD 2008 Student Award, which highlights the best emerging talent within design, advertising and communications courses around the world. The winner will be announced in June.

Lovat Leanies from MK's Lovat Fields Retirement Village have signed up for a Father's Day Brolly Walk

A brolly good show

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP of 60-plus fitness fanatics are calling on city families to get out their brollies.

The Lovat Leanies from MK's Lovat Fields Retirement Village run by The ExtraCare Charitable Trust, will join hundreds of walkers representing all age groups on sponsored circuits around the shores of North Willen Lake.

The Leanies are calling on Milton Keynes' families to sign up for a Father's Day Brolly Walk on June 15 – complete with decorated umbrellas to raise money for the city's older people. Participants are encouraged to decorate and 'bring-a-brolly' illustrating places or themes from around the world.

Activity areas representing different countries will also keep families and children busy, with games and competitions along the route.

Funds raised will support ExtraCare's Well-being programme, a preventative healthcare initiative which helps Lovat villagers and older people across Milton Keynes.

Lovat resident, Joan Khan, says the weekly Leanie sessions are not just about health and well-being but also enjoyment: "And the Brolly Walk will also be a fun day with the proceeds being used to promote people's awareness of wellbeing," she said.

ExtraCare wellbeing adviser, Bev Looker, runs the health meetings and says the group is a 'shining example' and hopes others will follow their lead: "It will be a fantastic and there'll be prizes for the best-decorated umbrellas and most money raised.

"The route is one-and-a-half-miles long and accessible even to those with wheelchairs and pushchairs."

Robert Goodman, centre director, and Fiona Essam, HR director, from thecentre:mk receive the award from Richard Caseby, managing editor of The Sunday Times

thecentre:mk hits Times Green List

EVERYTHING has gone green at thecentre:mk.

The shopping centre has been ranked the greenest retail company and the 30th best green company overall in the UK in The Sunday Times' Green List.

The list ranks entries by their environmental performance, polling employees to find out how green the company really is.

thecentre:mk was praised for its employees' attitudes to recycling and the centre's commitment to setting and achieving impressive waste and energy reduction targets.

The survey revealed that 81 per cent of employees at thecentre:mk felt that bosses were open to suggestions on environmental improvements, and 84 per cent of employees believe the organisation is doing a great deal to minimise its environmental impact.

The centre scored 93 per cent for employees being fully aware about where to put waste and has also encouraged employees to turn off electrical appliances when not in use, resulting in the centre exceeding its energy reduction target of 15 per cent last year by five per cent.

Robert Goodman, centre director, said: 'We are delighted that our shopping centre has been so successful. At thecentre:mk we are committed to improving our environmental performance and have implemented a series of sustainability initiatives that actively engage all of our employees as well as our shoppers in reducing the output of both waste and energy at the centre.

"As a company we are committed, long-term, to tackling the issue of sustainability and we are very proud of this recognition from The Sunday Times."

Schools cash back

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

ALMOST £28 million of Government funding has been returned for Milton Keynes schools, but the Conservatives warn it is not enough.

The Liberal Democrat administration at Milton Keynes Council was celebrating last Wednesday, May 14, after Schools Minister Jim Knight announced the return of more than half the £49 million axed from the city's three-year school build grant last October.

The council won a bid for funds from a national pot of money, £150 million to cover the period 2008/9 to 2010/11, which was set up to support local authorities which were unable to meet the demands of their school build programmes from within the original capital allocations.

Cllr Sam Crooks, cabinet member for schools, said it will allow the council to meet all of its immediate priorities including the new Rivers-Rickley school in Bletchley, the Middleton Primary extension, which is currently undergoing consultation, and a major extension to Walton High.

"This has been a tough fight but we now have enough money to get cracking on building our much needed schools," he said.

A significant number of primary and secondary school maintenance schemes will now also get the go-ahead.

However, Conservative finance spokesman Cllr David Tunney said the grant is not enough and the council will be forced to drop some projects over the next three to five years: "It is only half of what we needed," he said. "The fact is that the learning and education department at the Town Hall is having to rewrite the capital programme and see what can and can't be done. Something is going to have to be dropped."

A second Government announcement is expected in July on post-16 funding.

Taken together Milton Keynes Council hopes to recover around two thirds of the £49 million withdrawn by the Government last October.

Council leader, Cllr Isobel McCall, said: "We have achieved this by the quality of our case.

"I want to thank everyone concerned with these difficult and tortuous negotiations."

The perfect combination for the Bank Holiday.

Don't drive tired

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

ROAD safety officers are warning drivers of the danger of tiredness behind the wheel ahead of the bank holiday.

The officers from Milton Keynes Council will be joined by the fire and police services to host a 'Driver Fatigue Awareness Day', highlighting the dangers of driving when tired.

The event will be held tomorrow (Thursday May 22) at Newport Pagnell service station, just north of junction 14 on the M1.

Road Safety Officers are concerned that many drivers will be planning trips away over the bank holiday, which may involve long distance journeys that could be delayed due to the amount of traffic on the road.

An estimated 300 people a year are killed where a driver has fallen asleep at the wheel.

Vince Morley, from the council's Road Safety team, said: "Driver fatigue can be a real danger on these journeys; falling asleep at the wheel can be fatal.

"Laboratory studies have shown that sleep does not occur without warning.

"Drivers who start to feel drowsy try to fight it off by opening a window or turning up the radio. This doesn't work."

His advice was to take a 15-minute break every two hours, find a safe place to stop if you feel drowsy - not the hard shoulder-, and to drink two cups of coffee or a high-caffeine drink, then take a short nap to allow the caffeine to kick in.

Other tips are to have a good night's sleep before setting out on a long journey, don't start a long trip if you're already tired, try to avoid long trips between midnight and 6am and 2-4pm when natural alertness is low and share the driving if possible.

Stage set for Tour of Britain bikers

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

WORLD-CLASS cyclists will gather at Station Square in Milton Keynes to start the second stage of the Tour of Britain.

Organisers have revealed the area in front of Milton Keynes Central railway station will be the location for the 96 riders on Monday, September 8 at 9am.

Competitors will complete a full lap of the city centre, giving hundreds of spectators the opportunity to see an array of riders which could include Olympic champions.

Riders will already be familiar with the area when the line up for stage two of the race as the location will also be used as the race headquarters in the days leading up to the event.

Milton Keynes will see all the 96 riders, 100 team personnel, 300 race staff and volunteers arrive in the city to begin the task of assembling and preparing the infrastructure for the race that will begin on Sunday, September 7 in the centre of London.

The presence of the Tour of Britain in Milton Keynes is expected to deliver significant economic impact to the city, not only through the hotel rooms booked but also through the spend of the spectators who are expected in for the race.

Chief executive of Milton Keynes Partnership, John Lewis, said: "Milton Keynes is a cycle-friendly city and we therefore anticipate hundreds of spectators will be supporting the Tour of Britain.

"Attracting such a high profile event reinforces MK's growing prominence in the world of sport."

The riders taking part face a gruelling schedule as the embark on Milton Keynes just a day after the 'Grand Depart' in London.

By the time they reach Milton Keynes the riders will have completed a fast and furious 80km circuit race in the capital.

Event organiser at Milton Keynes Council, Gin Corrado said: "The Tour of Britain is more than just a sporting event, it's a cultural phenomenon that brings colour, excitement and inspiration to the places it visits. We are delighted that Milton Keynes has been chosen for the start of the second stage.".

Mayor Jan Lloyd with John Lewis of MK Partnership and Kirsty Heath from MK Council give Simon Gaywood a push start at the launch of Tour of Britain promotion in Midsummer Place

SO where are the best places to eat in Milton Keynes?

MK NEWS, MK Web and Kimbells Solicitors have teamed up to launch The Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year 2008 Awards to find out.

This time around we have been joined by sponsor Savills in launching the awards.

Its a fantastic opportunity to recognise those restaurants and eateries in Milton Keynes which YOU think are the 'best' in a range of categories.

Last year's inaugural awards were a huge success. This year we expect them to be even bigger and better.

The awards were introduced in 2007 to raise awareness of eating out in the Milton Keynes area and to identify the high fliers among our restaurants and eateries.

Diners are being asked to contribute to raising the profile of dining out in Milton Keynes by voting for the restaurants they feel deserve special recognition. Over a three month period members of the public will be able to give their feedback on the places where they most like to eat. An expert panel of judges will then visit short listed restaurants to confirm the winners.

Every type of venue has a realistic opportunity to gain recognition through the range of categories in which judging will take place, whether it's a pub with a food offer, a restaurant focused on providing business lunches, relaxed eating out for the family or dedicated to 'fine dining'.

Categories:

Best business lunch
Best service
Best newcomer (covering any restaurant which has opened in Milton Keynes in the last year)

Voting includes scoring venues on food, service, ambience and value.

The awards extend beyond Milton Keynes to cover areas including Woburn, Buckingham, Stony Stratford and outlying villages.

Last year's overall winners were The Crooked Billet at Newton Blossomville, with The Taipan in the theatre district winning best business lunch and family venue categories and the Dipalee being recognised for best service.

All have been able to benefit from the publicity associated with winning awards.

All you have to do is fill in voting cards on tables in restaurants, through forms printed in MK NEWS, online at MKWeb or by accessing the website at www.restaurantoftheyear.co.uk

By voting you will be entered into a draw and if successful win a meal for two at the Restaurant of the Year winner.

The venues shortlisted by you will be judged by an expert panel which will visit the restaurants on the shortlist as 'mystery diners'. The winners in each category will be announced later in the year.

Students from Stantonbury Campus listen to one of the speakers during their multi-cultural day

Diversity rules MK!

PUPILS from Stantonbury Campus have been celebrating different cultures within the community.

Last Thursday 450 Year 8 pupils interviewed more than 60 people as part of a project called 'MK: A City of Diverse Identities'.

Students prepared interview questions in their English and humanity lessons after exploring issues surrounding refugees, immigration, multiculturalism in the media and the meaning of 'community'. The invited guests represented a cross section of Milton Keynes society.

Among them there were vicars, a pastor, a nun, the chairman of the Black and Minority Ethnic Group, a major from the Salvation Army, a magistrate, elected members of Milton Keynes Council and school governors.

The event will culminate in a special meeting at Milton Keynes Council Offices on June 4.

Fifteen Year 8 students will be elected to represent their peers in order to meet and speak with the mayor and elected representatives.

Turn your dad into a super hero

IF your dad is a real hero – get him flying like a superhero.

If you think your dad is really special and deserves a treat, then nominate him as a hero and he could win the chance to fly at AirKix, the free fall skydiving experience at Xscape, Milton Keynes.

To enter the competition visit www.xscape.co.uk under Milton Keynes and What's On and, tell the judges why you think your dad is so great.

Short listed entrants will be sent a superhero's costume and asked to send a photo of themselves in the outfit to the judges.

The winner will receive an Xscape goody bag including tickets to fly at Airkix and the chance to have a go at flying through the sky on the new 100m Zip Line from the Xscape building.

Xscape's first ever Zip Line will be launched on June 14 and 15 to celebrate Father's Day and raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support.

■ For further information on the charity Zip Line event, call 01908 565963 or email bucks@macmillan.org.uk to register.

Prospects looking good for jobs and training aid

A GOVERNMENT cash injection is to boost training and employment in some of the city's most economically deprived areas.

Funding has been secured for another year to run the Routes to Success project following its success in 2007.

Yvonne Prosser, project co-ordinator of Routes to Success (R2S) based in Netherfield said: "We're overjoyed. We couldn't have wished for a more successful year last year and it's fantastic that our achievements have been recognised through further funding. It will help hundreds more people in Milton Keynes benefit from training and to get a job they want."

The Routes to Success programme, run in conjunction with MK College, has this year been extended to incorporate Stacey Bushes. Other areas to benefit include Netherfield, Tinkers Bridge, Fishermead, the Lakes Estate, Coffee Hall, Beanhill, Conniburrow, Fullers Slade, Bradville and Stantonbury.

Last year R2S was instrumental in helping 450 people in the city get a job and another 1,500 take training courses.

Success stories include a mum unable to read and write who is now doing a teaching course and an unemployed drug addict who has won a place at university following training at Milton Keynes College.

Yvonne added: "We are aiming to replicate the same success this year which is why it's important for lots of people to know what we have to offer.

"We will help people in terms of building confidence, identifying appropriate routes into further learning and employment, which in turn will help to support and sustain their local communities.

"This year's targets are slightly different in that the emphasis will be on helping more people into paid employment.

"However, participants don't necessarily have to be unemployed at present, they may just want a better job with better prospects and need our support to set out a training programme and take alternative options."

The Routes to Success programme will be also working with other local organisations including the MK Play Association, Women and Work and Countec to help people on the identified areas take the first step to furthering their prospects.

Life grand for top drama student

A DRAMA student has won a £1,000 award for excelling in the arts.

Chris McKenna, 18, from Lord Grey School in Bletchley, was presented the Sir Peter Thompson Award from Milton Keynes Theatre & Gallery Company on Friday.

The A-level drama and english literature student is planning to pursue drama at the University of Huddersfield this September and intends to buy a piece of software with the grant, which will enable him to develop his own productions including stage and lighting design.

He hopes the award will help him realise his ambition of becoming a professional actor.

Chris, pictured right, said: "I have always been passionate about acting. Throughout school I have always taken even small scale productions very seriously as I have found them a way of releasing my creativity."

GARDEN OF THE YEAR COMPETITION

Get back into the garden

NOW in its third year, Milton Keynes Garden of the Year 2008, is going to be bigger and better than ever before.

Roman Way Garden Centre has once again teamed up with MKNEWS to look for the best large and small gardens across our city.

Spring is here so what better time to get yourself and your green fingers out into the garden? If you think you have the best garden in Milton Keynes then why not enter our fantastic competition?

There are two categories for you to enter and more than £500 worth of prizes to be won.

BEST LARGE GARDEN

(over 50m2)

BEST SMALL GARDEN

(under 50m2)

All you have to do is fill in the entry form and send us a picture of your garden.

Our panel of judging experts will come up with a shortlist in each category.

The finalists will then be paid a visit by the judges in July when the individual category prizes will be awarded.

Each entry must include a colour photograph (minimum size 6insx4ins)

So get out into your garden now - you never know you could be a winner. Alternatively submit your entry to info.romanway@yahoo.co.uk

Judges will inform you if you have been shortlisted as a finalist and arrange a viewing with you. All entries must be entrants own work.

Closing date for the competition is July 4. Complete the form and send to 2008 Garden Awards, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 ODU

To enter the GARDEN OF THE YEAR 2008 AWARDS, tick the chosen category you wish to be entered for, fill in your details and follow the instructions above:

☐ Best large garden (over 50m²)
☐ Best small garden (under 50m²)

WHILE YOU WAIT JEWELLERY VALUATION DAY

A unique opportunity to have your jewellery valued by our National Association of Goldsmiths Registered Valuers, while you wait.

All valuations come with expert descriptions and digital photographs together with documentation for your insurance company.

Why not take this opportunity to protect your treasured valuables and book a consultation. Space is limited permitting a maximum of 3 items of jewellery to be valued on the day so early booking is advised. Any other pieces requiring valuation may of course be brought along and valued in the normal time span.

Telephone or call in for full details and to book your appointment.

Bike it, you'll like it for 20 quid

DAYTONA has cut its prices to get city folk racing.

The MK venue has slashed the price for racing this summer on its superb, full-fairing MotoGP-superbike-style midi-moto bikes to just £20.

It's important to stress these are not mini-moto but proper 70kph midi 'superbikes'.

All race events are the third Saturday in the months of June, July and August.

Daytona General Manager Mike Scudamore said: "When we launched these bikes exactly a year ago, we were thrilled by the public's response. This year, because we've had such a good year, we wanted to give something back to our customers in these difficult financial times; so we've launched our £20 'Ride and Drive' race experiences. We are certain that this will be popular so it's available on a first come, first served basis."

Riders are required to wear full leathers and these are available to hire if required.

A £10 'drop' deposit (against damage to the bike) is required from each rider. More information is available at www.daytona.co.uk

Handbag snatched

A HANDBAG was ripped from the shoulder of a woman by a thief wearing a plastic bag on his head.

The 55-year-old victim had her bag snatched as she was walking along the Redway in Fishermead.

She was walking past Meadfurlong Combined School when she became aware of a man standing in front of her.

He grabbed the strap of her handbag from her shoulder and ran off towards the bridge which crosses Childs Way.

The theft took place at 1.50pm on Friday, May 9.

Police said the man was wearing a plastic carrier bag over his hair. He is described as white, in his early twenties, approximately 5ft 8ins tall and thin.

He was dressed in a plain light grey loose fitting T-shirt and blue jeans.

Anyone who witnessed the theft can contact PC John Turney on 08458 505505 or call the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555111.

Artist creates new look for MK Gallery

MILTON Keynes Gallery is set to get a new look.

Artist Richard Woods is planning to cover the gallery at the theatre district with a special new sort of cladding.

Work by technicians and gallery assistants is already under way to cover the outside in battens and plywood in preparation for the new look.

The work is expected to be finished at the end of June.

Richard Woods is a high-profile artist who has worked across the world.

The artist plays with the borderline between art and architecture – where does one begin and another end and what is the difference between them?

■ Last week we revealed how current exhibitor Cathy Wilkes had been shortlisted for this year's Turner Prize.

When it's all over, we can help you make a clean break.

When you know what your legal options are on separation or divorce, you've begun to take control. This is what Beth Woodward helps you achieve. She will work with you to reduce the financial and emotional impact on you, your children and your business. The aim is the negotiation of a settlement; for you really do both have to get on with your lives.

A trained specialist in collaborative law, Beth can offer separating couples an alternative to litigation. It gives them the chance to agree both what is right for their children and for themselves in collaboration with each other and their own solicitors in a series of meetings. And it avoids the potentially hostile route of litigation.

Beth Woodward can advise on this and all other aspects of divorce law to ensure you achieve a fair and equitable settlement.

Please call Beth Woodward today on 01908 304560, or e-mail her to see how she may help you: bwoodward@neves-solicitors.co.uk

HOMES INSIDE & OUT

Spring has eventually sprung - and it's the time when our thoughts traditionally turn, not to love, but to spring cleaning and getting our homes and gardens looking their best.

With the housing market looking ever more confusing, many home owners seem inclined to improve on what they've got, rather than going to the trouble and expense of moving.

Tips for Homely Heaven

1. ALWAYS be consistent with your units of measure - don't mix inches with centimetres!
2. When estimating quantities of wallpaper and paint, add an extra 10 per cent to compensate for waste.
3. Prevent the build-up of mildew in the bathroom by installing a fan that is vented on the outside.
4. When removing old hinges from a door, clean out any paint in the screw heads, insert a screw driver and give it a sharp tap with a hammer to loosen its grip.
5. Occasionally wash your brooms in soapy water and allow them to dry upside down to prevent the bristles from bending.
6. When stripping wallpaper, mix two tablespoons of fabric softener in a spray bottle with hot water. Spray onto a small area, let it soak for a few minutes and then scrape off.
7. If the grout in your bathroom or kitchen is prone to staining, replace it with a coloured one that hides the stains better.
8. When painting walls, roll the first coat on diagonally and the final coat with straight and vertical lines.
9. To remove paint or dye from skin, wash it with shaving cream and warm water.
10. If your hallway needs a focal point, try hanging a pendant light.
11. To create a mellow atmosphere in the bedroom, drape a lamp hanging from the ceiling in voile.
12. Clean up rusty tools with a Brillo pad dipped in turpentine.
13. An electric carving knife is perfect for cutting through foam.
14. Store your steel wool pads in soapy water or aluminium foil to prevent them getting rusty.
15. Make a room appear larger by placing a lamp directly in front of a large mirror - the light will then be cast over the entire room.
16. If you are decorating a small bathroom, don't use too many colours, as this will make it seem smaller.
17. Personalise your bathroom or kitchen by stencilling designs onto the walls.
18. If you need to rub down a window frame, use wire wool on the cross sections to prevent scratching the glass with sandpaper.
19. When painting walls, place an elastic band around the paintbrush, under the bristles. This prevents paint from running down the handle.
20. Clean surfaces, before painting, by washing them in a solution of dishwasher powder and very hot water.

MUSIC REVIEWS

THE DEVIL'S BEAT
Sandi Thom

BEFORE I heard this song, I had two theories as to what it might be about.

The first one was fairly straightforward: Sandi Thom delivers a stinging critique of dance music today. If you've heard Cascada, then you have to accept that this one's feasible.

The other theory was a bit less likely: Satan becomes a policeman and goes patrolling round villages, saying 'evening all' a lot and helping old biddies cross the road. You may mock (and you'd be right to do so), but look at it this way, Madness' House Of Fun is about a boy buying condoms for the first time.

As is usually the way, both my theories are way off the mark – turns out she's moaning about the state of the world.

Everybody does that, but why doesn't somebody write songs about the nice things in life? You know, kittens, Battenburg cakes, pay rises, that sort of thing. It makes you wonder, doesn't it?

Still, she's having a moan over a relatively upbeat track and it's all over within two and a half minutes. Personally, I can take or leave it and at least it proves she's not a one-trick pony.

PHOTGRAPH
Nickelback

EVEN now, considering its been in the charts for longer than most of its listeners have been alive, I actually still like Rockstar, it's cynical, funny. Yes, the tune's a bit basic, but it's Nickelback, not Nine Inch Nails.

This one, sadly, is a slight return to their old ways. The verses are fine. There's nothing wrong with the verses, they're filled with Chad Kroeger (winner of the Most Earnest Looking Man In Rock Music Award since 2002) reminiscing about the stories behind some photos he's found.

Where the song falls down is with the chorus and the tune – they're a bit American-teen-drama-soundtrack is what they are.

It's the sort of thing you'd hear after there's been a huge bust-up and the camera flits between the two protagonists as they sit on their beds, flicking through college yearbooks and crying their eyes out.

There's a feeling that whatever came after Rockstar was going to have the odds stacked against it and so it has come to pass.

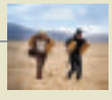
DISCO'S REVENGE 2008
Gusto

THIS is a collector's item – a remix that's actually better than the original.

I know, it shouldn't be possible, but the original was a bit of a plodder, whereas this update is tweaked just enough for the song to buck its ideas up and sort itself out.

Praise where it's due, the Freemasons have really earned their money here. All the same though, it's starting to look as though by the end of the year, half the singles in the chart are going to have 2008 at the end of their name.

CHICK LIT
We Are Scientists



ANYONE who can come up with a song that sounds like an early Duran Duran song with a lit firecracker rammed up its bum deserves respect.

Not only that, but to then end up with something as good as this has turned out is quite an achievement too, so well done We Are Scientists.

THE SINGER AND THE SONGS

AN award winning RnB star is coming to the city.

Singing sensation Jay Sean has confirmed he will be performing live on stage at Spice Lounge's Summer Ball on Sunday, June 1.

The exclusive, one off night will be brought to you by Live Base Entertainments, and tickets are expected to sell out quickly.

The Spice Lounge is limiting the capacity to 200 for the Summer Ball, to ensure an intimate atmosphere for Jay Sean's performance.

British singer/songwriter, Jay Sean, was on track to becoming a doctor when he threw it all away to sign a contract with Virgin Records.

He has since reaped the rewards of his risky decision by selling over 300,000 copies of his debut album Me Against Myself, recording numerous chart-topping singles, and has just released his new album, My Own Way, which features the hit track Ride It.

For £35, you can get a ticket to the Summer Ball which includes a three course meal.

Alternatively, pay £15 just for entry, or £20 on the door .

For advance ticket bookings, call the ticket agent on 07830 389026 or email info@live-base.co.uk (Group discounts available).

The dress code is stylish and sexy; smart attire only.

Call 237400 or log on to www.spicelounge.org, for further information.

ELECTRIC STRAWBS
Tuesday, May 27. 8pm
THE Strawbs first hit the charts in the UK in the early 1970s with Grave New World and Bursting At The Seams. From the mid-1970s they concentrated their attention on the USA. The Strawbs return in their electric format with songwriter David Cousins, guitarist Dave Lambert, keyboardist John Hawken, bass player Chas Cronk, and drummer Rod Coombes – the classic 1970s line-up of Britain's most successful international folk-rock band.
Tickets £19.50

JIMMY TARBUCK
Wednesday, May 28. 8pm
JIMMY Tarbuck returns with a show which takes the audience on a nostalgic trip down memory lane. From being at school in the same class as John Lennon to playing golf with the legend Bing Crosby, Jimmy uses photos and video footage to illustrate his stories which are steeped in quickfire Liverpool wit and street-corner cheek. He delivers comedy for grown-ups rather than adult material a master comedian at work.
Tickets £17.50, £19.50

SAMAY
Wednesday, May 28. 8.45pm
SAMAY is a unique collective of musicians taking the traditional music of India as a base for constructing original arrangements and improvisation, as well as using their previous experience in jazz and various world folk styles, the musicians create a distinctive sound thus far unknown to the western or eastern world.
Tickets £9.50 in advance, £11.50 on the door

THE BOSSHOSS
Thursday, May 29. 8pm
THE BossHoss is a band from Berlin with attitude and a growing world-wide fan base thanks to incredible live performances. Incorporating stereotypical American cowboy style with Stetson hats, tank tops, large sunglasses and whisky bottles their quirky covers of pop, rock and hip hop such as Toxic by Britney Spears and Ey Ya! by outkast are peppered with ye-haw yells in true country trash punk rock style.
Tickets £14.50

HAMLET
A ballet by David Nixon
Until Saturday
RENOWNED for its distinctive blend of ballet and theatre and with a strong reputation for telling stories through dance, Northern Ballet Theatre is ideally placed to bring the emotionally impact of Hamlet to life.
In the early 1940s a young man arrives home from the Front. But his home is no longer his own. His father is dead, his mother has married his uncle and the enemy occupies his city.
Hamlet features a new score by Phillip Feeney played live by the Northern Ballet Theatre Orchestra.

THE WEDDING SINGER
Monday, May 26 - Saturday May 31
REMEMBER when hair was big, greed was good and shoulder pads were in?
It's the 80s and wannabe rock star Robbie Hart is everyone's favourite wedding singer.
He's the life and soul of the party until he gets jilted at the altar.
Shot through the heart, Robbie makes every wedding as disastrous as his own, until he meets Julia, a sweet waitress. The only trouble is, she is about to get married.
Can Robbie pull of his performance of the decade and win the girl of his dreams.
The play stars Jonathan Wilkes and Natalie Casey.

WHAT is shiatsu? Why is it so popular? The Well at Willen. Find out more about shiatsu treatment. No, it's not a dog. It is Japanese though. And it is a healing treatment which uses the same theory as acupuncture. So, it's sometimes called 'acupuncture without needles', or 'lazy person's yoga', since the practitioner stretches your body for you. Shiatsu is done lying on a mat, and treatment is through light, cotton clothing. It is an opportunity to take a break - a breathing space. This evening will tell you more about this fantastic treatment. Catherine Scanlon, who is a registered practitioner, will lead the session. Bring your questions, and find out more.

CHEFS'SECRETS

Alright my sun

SUN shining, grass cuttings, car washing, sunburnt faces, whiter than white legs, last years shorts – must be England!

The first sign of sunshine makes us all feel happier, more carefree and relaxed, these recipes are very easy and quick so would also be suitable for a weekday invite.

A lot of people are afraid of cooking duck.

It is a wonderful meat and we have our very own Aylesbury duck on our doorstep.

The myth is that duck is so greasy. Wrong!

You do not need to add any extra oil as the skin contains its own natural oil. Which, when cooked down, makes a wonderful crispy and golden brown skin.

Any excess duck fat can be used for making great roast potatoes.

I use duck a lot at The Crooked Billet with many different garnishes.

Today's roasted duck breast with pak choi and soy is a wonderful combination of flavours and a touch different from the norm.

The starter of goat cheese wrapped in filo is great. Sealing the cheese in a little parcel allows the heated cheese to go nice and gooey.

Doing something with a bought jelly but adding wine instead of water makes such a difference to the flavour and is a great alcoholic kick at the end of a meal.

Happy Cooking

EMMA

DUCK BREAST & WILTED PAK CHOI
Serves six

INGREDIENTS
6 duck breasts trimmed
6 bunches pak choi, or bok choi washed and sliced in lengthways
6 tbsp soy sauce
Cling Film
Sea salt
Black pepper

METHOD
1. Pre-heat oven to 200C, put a large frying pan on a medium heat, leave dry, season the duck breasts with salt and pepper
2. Place them in the pan skin side down and cook until the skin goes brown and crispy, about six minutes. Turn over cook for three minutes to seal. Turn back to skin side place in oven for about 6-8 minutes, depending how well done you like it. It is best served a little pink as it will remain nice and juicy.
3.Place the pak choi in a large bowl and sprinkle with the soy sauce. Cover the bowl tightly with cling film.
4. Place in a microwave for 3-5 minutes depending on the strength of your machine.
5. The leaves of the pok choi should wilt leaving the stalks still crunchy
6. Remove duck from the oven, place on a wire rack for five minutes to rest. Place the pak choi on the plates two pieces on each and either slice the duck or serve it whole on top.

GOAT CHEESE
Serves six

INGREDIENTS
6 goats cheese slices precut (you can buy them at any supermarket)
1 packet filo pastry
150g butter, melted
Small bunch flat leaf parsley, chopped
3 plum tomatoes, roughly chopped pips and skins included
1 medium onion, diced
2 garlic cloves, chopped
1 tbsp light Olive oil
1 tbsp soft brown sugar
Sea salt & pepper

METHOD
1. Pre heat oven to 200C, gently heat the olive oil in a non stick pan
2. Add the onion and garlic, until softened, add the tomatoes, pinch of salt and pepper and the sugar, leave to cook for 10 minutes until the mixture has gone jam-like, remove from heat. Put to one side.
3. Lay out a sheet of filo and brush with the melted butter. Place another sheet of filo on top and brush with more butter.
4. Place the goat's cheese into the middle of each sheet. Sprinkle with black pepper and a little parsley.
5. Wrap the goats cheese in the filo, cut away any excess pastry and brush with more butter
6. Place on a baking tray and cook for 8-10 minutes till golden brown.
7. Mix the rest of the parsley into the tomatoes and serve with the goat cheeseand some rocket leaves.

JELLY
Serves six

INGREDIENTS
2 pkts of blackcurrant jelly
Champagne, sparkling wine or sweet white wine(instead of the water)
1 punnet each of blackberries, blueberries and blackcurrants

METHOD
1. Break the jelly up into pieces and put in a bowl
2. Measure out the wine, according to the jelly recipe and put into heatproof jug.
3. Heat in the microwave until hot but not boiling and pour over the jelly, stir until dissolved.
4. Select six individual ramekins and arrange the fruit and pour over the jelly, set in the fridge.
5. Serve with blackcurrant sorbet, which you can get at the supermarket, and sprinkle with some fruit.

MK BUSINESS

The Mayor of Milton Keynes, Jan Lloyd, with Peter Boam MD of Capital Enterprise Centres and Professor James Fleck of the OU open the new centre

Linford Wood business centre officially opened

A NEW £8.8 million business centre has been officially opened.

Dean of the Open University Business School and Professor of Innovation Dynamics, James Fleck formally opened the new Milton Keynes Business Centre on Thursday.

The state of the art centre in Foxhunter Drive, Linford Wood, provides offices, studios and workshops for more than 90 companies and offers around 5,000 square metres (54,000 square feet) of managed workshops.

Already 37 businesses have taken space at the centre.

The centre has been developed by Capital Enterprise Centres (CEC).

CEC managing director Peter Boam said: "We have been given a very warm welcome in Milton Keynes and would like to thank all those who have helped us complete the devlopment of an outstanding new centre. We are sure that the centre will now become a real hub for business growth.

"We were, of course, particularly pleased that Professor Fleck agreed to open our centre.

"The OU reflects the innovative and outward looking nature of Milton Keynes and is a driver of the high skills economy on which our future prosperity will rest.

Professor Fleck unveiled a plaque to commemorate the opening. He said: "MK is a great place to live and work. It has a high skills base. Often these successful businesses have started as small companies which have been able to seize quickly new opportunities. So it's particularly good to see a centre being opened which provides absolutely the right setting to allow innovative growth businesses of this kind to realise their full potential."

New mayor Jan Lloyd was also in attendance.

Flexibility could cut back-pain absenses

ABSENCE from work cost the UK economy £13.2 billion last year as the average employee in the South East took more than seven (7.4) days off sick.

Elsewhere the gulf between absence rates in the public sector and the private sector grew to a record level, according to the CBI.

Speaking about the latest CBI/AXA Absence Survey, CBI south east regional director Malcolm Hyde said: "Everyone agrees that sick people need time off work.

"But employers face two serious and expensive challenges – dealing with bogus sick days, and helping those with long-term illness return to work when they are fit to do so.

"People who awarded themselves 'sickies' to enjoy the recent sunny weather or to extend a weekend away are acting unfairly, leaving their colleagues to pick up their work, and costing taxpayers and employers over a billion pounds a year.

"Those with long-term illnesses need time to recover – nobody expects anyone to be at the office checking their e-mails the day after a heart bypass.

"But in many cases, like those involving stress or back pain, firms that keep in touch with employees and offer flexible working have been successful at reducing long-term absence levels.

"A fresh, proactive approach to managing long-term absence could help stem the flow onto incapacity benefit – which currently costs £12.5bn a year for 2.5m people – and help employers to retain skilled employees, many of whom will find that work can improve their health and outlook."

Make time to switch off

COMPANY employees who use mobile phones, Blackberries or other remote technology work an extra 20 days a year, effectively giving up their holiday, according to new research today.

A survey of 1,000 staff by recruitment firm Office Angels showed that seven per cent felt under pressure and suffocated because they were constantly tuned in to work, while a similar number were angry that they could not switch off and escape work.

Companies are reaping huge returns by providing new technology to their staff because of the extra hours being worked, said the report.

But despite, the shocking'statistics, two out of five of those questioned said they were grateful for technology, often believing it reduced stress levels by allowing flexible working and preventing e-mail build up.

David Clubb managing director of Office Angels said: "It's important that you maintain a work life balance and keep work in perspective.

"Occassionally we all need to work outside normal hours, but this should really be the exception not the rule. Be disciplined about whether you really need to log on."

Office Angels urged workers not to let technology dictate the hours they put in.

Improve your job chances with a top quality CV

SGL Solutions Ltd has launched a new CV writing service, in order to assist jobseekers in securing the best opportunity to succeed in their search.

The financial services recruitment specalists offer a range of options, from full CV construction (£80) to CV upgrade (£60), in which an existing CV is brought up-to-date in a dynamic, attention-grabbing way.

Clients of the Stony Straford-based company may choose to meet for a personal consultation of up to one hour or request copies of their CV to be presented on bonded paper and on disc.

They are also given the option of one additional upgrade at no extra cost.

TRAIN AS A HOME INSPECTOR

Up to 2 million properties being sold every year now need Home Information Packs which must include an Energy Assessment carried out by a newly trained Home Inspector or Energy Assessor. Thousands more of these new professionals will be needed later this year for the rental sector when Government requires around 1.6 million properties being let in the first year to also have Energy Assessments.

This creates new and interesting career opportunities and we require people to train now as Home Inspectors in their spare time. No previous surveying experience is required.

Thousands more new Home Inspectors will also be needed if Government confirm Packs must include a currently optional Home Condition Report.

Current fee earning expectations are £60 to £80 for Energy Assessments and £200 to £300 for Home Condition Reports with up to 15 Assessments or 6 Reports estimated to be carried out in a week, depending on size of properties and supply.

Applicants should apply now for a limited number of training places at the Government's ABBE approved centres of Home Inspector Training near London and in Bristol, Birmingham and Manchester. (4-night accommodation package advice if required.) The Course consists mainly of 7 separately bookable one-week modules, taken over up to 10 months, if this long is needed, and is designed to enable most people to train around their current commitments.

On qualifying you are awarded the ABBE Home Inspector Diploma required by Government and are able to carry out Assessments and Reports on your own, for other Pack Providers or, depending on the market share gained, for our own in-house Pack Provider in return for receiving a course subsidy. Once qualified, additional courses with qualifications now being researched may be available to carry out property valuations, Energy Assessments for commercial properties and flood and fire risk assessments to provide additional income streams. Ref: HLU20D

FULL TIME NURSERY NURSE (cover for Maternity Leave)

St. Andrew's School requires a suitably qualified and experienced full time Nursery Nurse (8.00 am – 3.30 pm) to work in Nursery (boys and girls aged 3-4), with effect from 1st September 2008, to cover for Maternity Leave.

The role will include occasionally deputising for the Head of Nursery along with Key Person responsibilities and curriculum planning and delivery. A working knowledge of Montessori practice would be an advantage but not essential.

PART TIME NURSERY NURSE

St. Andrew's School also requires a suitably qualified and experienced part time Nursery Nurse to work in Nursery (boys and girls aged 3-4) with effect from 1st September 2008. The hours, initially, will be 8.00 am to 1.00 pm, Monday to Friday, with one day a week being 8.00 am to 3.30 pm. There may be the possibility of additional hours later in the year.

The role will include Key Person responsibilities and curriculum planning and delivery. A working knowledge of Montessori practice would be an advantage but not essential.

Closing Date for applications –Friday 30th May 2008, with interviews shortly afterwards. Further details of both posts and application forms are available from Mrs Sheila Heaney, Secretary to the Headmistress, on 01234 267272, or from sheaney@standrewsschoolbedford.com.

St. Andrew's School is committed to safe-guarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

LITREMETER
Specialist flow measurement engineering

Looking to develop further in Engineering Sales?

Due to our continued growth we have vacancies for both Sales Engineers and Sales Support staff.

Located near Milton Keynes we are a specialist global supplier of Industrial Flowmeters. We are recognised in our industry for providing unrivalled customer care and technical excellence through our delivery of bespoke, cost-effective, reliable solutions for diverse flow applications.

All roles report to the Sales & Marketing Director and involve working within a small friendly team. For both roles you will need to have had at least 5 years sales/sales support experience gained in an engineering or manufacturing environment dealing with technical products or services. You will need to be highly PC literate, confident in all Microsoft Office applications and ideally have experience of Goldmine (or other similar CRM software), Quoteworks and Sage. You should be commercially aware and be able to work quickly and accurately in a fast paced multi tasking environment. Strong communication skills and a team focused friendly approach are a must to fit in with this small professional team. For a Sales Engineers position you will need to have appropriate engineering qualifications and a proven track record in solution driven technical sales.

If you think you have what it takes to help us grow and would like to work for a small, friendly, well established family owned business then contact us by sending your CV via email to David Tyler at david@litremeter.com or visit our website at www.litremeter.com

Diesel do nicely in Honda's new Accord

ONCE again, Honda is trying to break free from the mainstream with its latest Accord.

Last time it only partly achieved this aim, but with a bigger, more luxurious model, it stands a better chance, differentiating itself with jawdropping technology and fiendishly clever engineering. As before, both saloon and Tourer estate versions are offered.

The big news with this generation Accord is an all-new diesel engine that Honda calls the i-DTEC.

Generating 149bhp at 4,000rpm it's more refined than the old 138bhp i-CTDi engine and also beats it in terms of emissions and fuel economy. With a peak torque figure of 350Nm, it's also extremely punchy.

Otherwise there are two petrol engines, starting with the 155bhp 2.0-litre i-VTEC with its revised valve lift and timing and better gas flow. Or there's a 198bhp 2.4-litre i-VTEC unit which has also had a good deal of internal revision to make that power figure without recourse to turbo charging.

All engines are mated to six-speed manual gearboxes, while the petrol units have the option of a five-speed auto.

Honda benchmarked the BMW 3 Series in the development of the Accord, but then most manufacturers do. It's how close they came that matters. The centre of gravity of the latest Accord is lower, the track across the axles is wider, body rigidity is improved and variable rate damping and revised multilink rear suspension also assist agility.

A quicker ratio steering rack also features. These are all solid improvements but none are ground breaking. The Accord differentiates itself from the opposition in other ways.

The exterior isn't going to shock too many customers.

Despite being a completely fresh design from the ground up, the latest Accord shares many styling cues with its predecessor. Park the two cars side by side, however, and you'll see that the latest generation is lower and far wider, has a more aggressive, hunkered down stance, and more pugnacious wheel arches.

The V-shaped front grille and sculpted headlamps give the Accord some serious rear-view mirror presence while the Tourer's rising window line gives it an edgier, more dynamic look.

The cabin has been improved, ridding the Accord of the rather reedy, lightweight feel of older versions.

The dashboard extends from the centre console to sweep around the front seats, giving the Accord's interior some character.

The dash features floating backlit instruments with an LCD information screen housed in the middle of the speedometer dial.

Honda has spent a big proportion of the budget on the front seats, being at the same time more supportive and better able to dampen vibration.

Pricing for the saloon starts at £19,250 for the entry-level ES model but the version that most customers will buy, the ES GT, starts at £20,100 which includes 17-inch alloy wheels, half-leather seats, cruise control, aero kit, sports suspension and climate control.

Overall? Well, the Accord has inched incrementally upmarket, but at this rate it'll be a very long time before it's trading punches with BMW.

So what remains?

A very good, very technologically dense vehicle that needs to drop the naked ambition and concentrate on developing its own niche.

We've made our cars more fuel efficient. This weekend, Stratstone Milton Keynes could do the same for yours.

Whatever you drive, the way you maintain your car can make a difference to your fuel consumption and emissions. That's why we're offering to give your car a free BMW Efficiency Check. Our suggestions could help lower your car's emissions and running costs.

And while your check's carried out, we also invite you to experience one of the new range of BMW cars featuring EfficientDynamics. These award-winning technologies actually improve performance but at the same time lower emissions and improve fuel consumption.

Visit the BMW EfficientDynamics Open Weekend on 31 May or 1 June at Stratstone Milton Keynes. To find out more visit www.stratstonemiltonkeynesbmw.co.uk or call the Sales Team on 01908 588600.

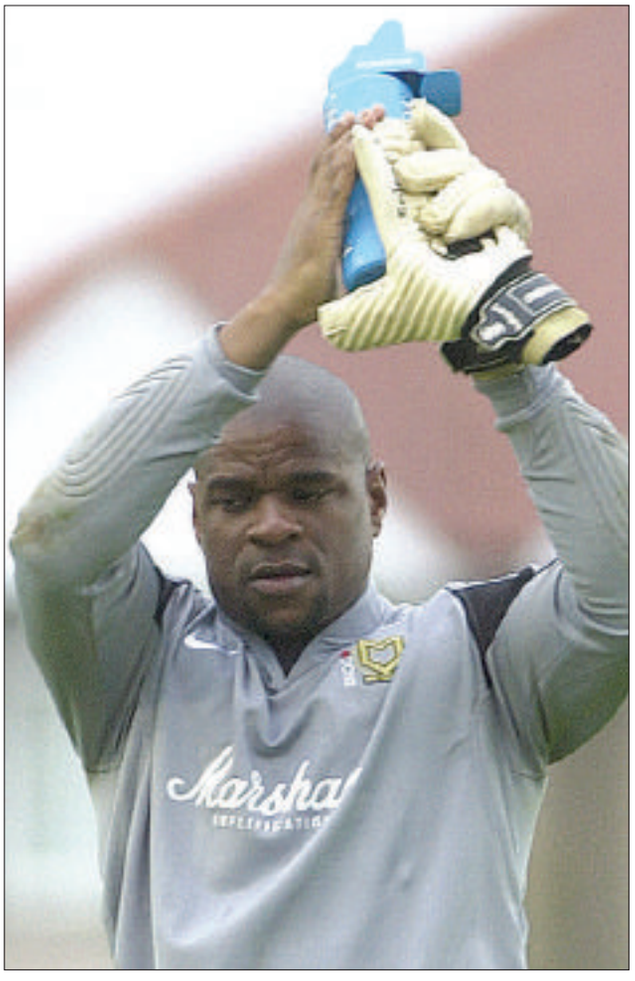
L'homme avec le Golden Glove

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk



WILLY Gueret has capped off his terrific season by collecting the League Two Golden Glove award.

The Frenchman has scooped the prestigious goalkeeping gong in his first season with the Dons.

His impressive year between the sticks undoubtedly made the difference in taking the Dons to League One as champions rather than simply through automatic promotion.

The award is give to the goalie who keeps the most clean sheets in the league and Gueret managed a massive 23 shut-outs.

Gueret has been the hero on many occasions in the Dons' cup double winning season.

Most notably in their Johnstone's Paint Trophy success.

His save in the penalty shoot-out with Swansea took them to the final, then he stopped another spot-kick at Wembley.

And having set the target Gueret was happy to collect his award.

He said: "At the start of the season we said if we could make 15 clean sheets it would be great for the lads and give them a great chance. When we got to 15 I went for 20 so the target was flexible.

"I'm pleased with the 23, it shows how well we've done as a team and I'm pleased with the way I've been playing too.

"For a goalkeeper, it's great to keep clean sheets but I would never have kept as many without the boys in front of me.

"My back four, the boys in midfield and even the boys up front have worked very hard to make things difficult for the other team.

"Without them it wouldn't happen so the clean sheets are a sign of how well we've all been doing, not just me."

Sam Collins

Drewe Broughton

Matt Carbon

Kieran Murphy

Gareth Edds for the door – along with four others

FIVE players have been shown the exit door at stadiummk.

Gareth Edds heads the casualty list while Drewe Broughton, Matt Carbon, Sam Collins and Kieran Murphy have also been released.

An injury-hit season saw Edds limited to ten appearances for the Dons last year.

But the defender-cum-midfielder will be remembered fondly by the Dons faithful because of one goal.

Edds scored arguably one of the club's most important goals back in 2005.

His last-gasp strike against Tranmere at the end of a torrid relegation battle ensured the Dons' League One status for another year.

The Australian, who spent four years with the club after joining from Bradford, became a firm favourite with the fans for his heroics.

Having come to the end of their contracts Broughton and Carbon were not offered new deals.

Striker Broughton struggled for game time at the Dons, he spent the final months of the season in Wales during two loan spells with Wrexham while veteran defender Carbon, who joined in December following a trail period was seen as surplus to requirements.

And while short-stay players have been let go, so too have two academy products in Collins and Murphy.

Collins had two loan spells at Kettering and Hendon while Murphy spent a large part of the season with Crawley in the Blue Square Premier side.

All five contracts end on June, 30.

Speaking on the departure chairman Pete Winkelman said: "I'd like to thank all of the players for their work with the club, particularly Gareth Edds after four years of service and some unforgettable moments.

Gareth Edds

"While Drewe and Matt have only been with us for a year, their respective efforts both on and off the pitch have contributed a great deal to what has been an historic season for the club.

"For Sam and Kieran, two talented young players developed in the club's Academy, I have every confidence that they will continue their careers in the professional game.

"I wish them all the very best of luck with their future careers."

LEAGUE Two attendances have risen by 5.1 per cent in the last year.

In fact the figures rose right across the Football League with crowds reaching the 16 million figure for the fourth consecutive season.

More than 16.2m supporters attended the 1,656 matches played during 2007/08.

The average crowd for League Two reached the 4,300 mark.

MK Dons' impressive crowd figures helped towards that total.

The Dons smashed the League Two record for the season on the final day with a bumper crowd of 17,250 turning out to see them crowned champions.

The average attendance at Dons home games was 9,456.

It was also another good season for the cup competitions.

Crowds for the Carling Cup rose by 21.2 per cent and the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, which the Dons won at Wembley, also increased by 13.7 per cent.

A delighted Lord Mawhinney, chairman of the Football League, said:

"These are another set of impressive figures. I would like to offer my appreciation to everybody that has gone to watch League football this season. Our competitions thrive on the passion and loyalty that fans give to their clubs.

"I would also like to congratulate League clubs on the efforts they have made to fill their grounds. On the pitch, they have provided another season of exciting, competitive football."

BEING named in the team of the week, team of the year and even League Two player of the Year is something Dons' skipper Keith Andrews is becoming familiar with.

But he has taken on a new role in the close season - he has been named on the judging panel for the world famous Rose of Tralee Regional Final.

The regional final will take place at the Milton Keynes Irish Centre on Sunday June, 1st.

The Rose of Tralee International Festival is based on the love song The Rose of Tralee

Dubliner Andrews will lend a hand selecting that girl who could go all the way to the final in Tralee.

The family evening starts at 4pm.

Badminton squad named

GREAT Britain's badminton stars will find out whether they have been named in the Olympic squad tomorrow.

Team GB will be formally announced at a media event in Chinatown, London.

Milton Keynes based pairing Gail Emms and Nathan Robertson, who won silver at the 2004 Olympics, are expected to be named in the squad.

The mixed-doubles partners will be hoping they can go one better and clinch gold in Beijing later this year.

The Member Associations will confirm to the Badminton World Federation their selection of qualified players/pairs on Saturday, May 31.

New basketball club

A NEW club have joined the British Basketball League.

Worthing Thunder will compete in the BBL Championship when the season starts in September.

Thunder were EBL Division one champions in 2005/06 and 2006/07. Last season they finished third in the league.

It means Britain's top basket ball league will now have 13 teams.

Ability Counts football

ON Sunday an Ability Counts Festival is being held at Woughton on the Green.

The scheme allows people with a variety of disabilities the chance to enjoy football.

The South East Regional qualifiers will also take place with the winners advancing to the National Ability Counts Festival.

The event has attracted 28 teams with 10 teams representing MK Dons.

The festival is in association with Berks and Bucks Football Association, MK Dons Sport and Education Trust, and Football First.

Plastic binned

THE SNO!zone Xscape Race Team will host the first club national race on indoor snow on June 1.

Club races have always been held on plastic surfaces in the past but with the increase of indoor snow slope within the UK the inclusion of snow had been introduced. It will consist of two runs held on separate courses which will count separately for British ARTificial Seeding points (BARTS).

Entries are limited to 160 racers (minis, children and juniors and adults).

Club National events are designed to encourage grass roots level skiing in the UK giving new racers an event at which they can compete alongside established competitors.

Winslow win cements MK at foot of table

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES

DIVISION ONE

THE top two clashed this weekend and inevitably it ended in a draw.

Once again James Flecknall led the way for table toppers Eaton Bray with a knock of 88 contributing to their 251-6 innings, but they did not have it all their own way as Cublington's Ben Smith claimed 4-50.

Cublington were unlikely to threaten the target they had been set especial as Gary Ekkerton's 3-35 stopped the side from gaining any real momentum.

At close of play they were at 164-8 which earned them seven points while Bray took 20.

Milton Keynes are still stuck at the bottom of the pile as Winslow Town added to their misery by handing them a two wicket defeat.

MK's lowly 105 should have been easily matched but Winslow struggled until James Gaskins 35no steered them through.

Aspley Guise are ten points behind second placed Cublington after collecting 30 points from Newport Pagnell.

The superb efforts of bowler Alexander Sear (7-44) saw Aspley Guise's total reduced to 172, but in response Matt Funge took 6-29 to dismiss Newport for 143 and seal a 29 run victory.

North Crawly lost to New Bradwell by seven wickets and stay third from bottom.

Teemor Alam (55no) and Zaheer Ahmed (40no) guided New Bradwell to the win.

Olney Town's game with MK City was abandoned without a ball bowled due to a sodden pitch.

DIVISION TWO

OLD Bradwell emerged victorious from their mid-table clash with Stewkley.

Shaun Christie's 76 looked to have given Old Bradwell a tough 200-7 target until Gary Megram (66) and Ross Poulter (58) helped match the score with five wickets to spare.

Biddenham kept up the pressure on third place with a 30 run win over Aston Clinton.

Despite Biddenham's low 181-7 total proved too difficult for Clinton to match.

Elstow's game with Studham was abandoned so the teams take ten points each.

DIVISION THREE

AN unbeaten century by Darren Kerins went in vain as Eaton Bray 2nds lost to Drayton Parslow.

Tring 4ths keeper Tony Dunkley moves in vain as Dave Chapman, Newport Pagnell 2nds, turns a Stuart Procter ball away to leg

Kerins smashed 108no as Bray reached 207-6 but Parslow, thanks to 92 from Shane Rolls, were able to better the total with three wickets left.

Shenley Church End are just one point clear at the top despite beating Eggington Forresters.

Shenley chased down the 161 set by Egginton to win by seven wickets.

New Bradwell 2nds lost to North Crawley 2nds by 52 runs.

Paul Mitford (43) and Sam Howe (33) helped Crawley reach 191-9.

And Bradwell struggled in their reply as they fell short despite Graham Stanford and Joel Langley combining for 80 runs.

Whitchurch and Turvey earned ten points as they game fell foul to the weather.

DIVISION FOUR

MK City 2nds brushed aside Printers to go level on points at the top with Harlington.

City eased to a ten wicket win as Greg Maw's unbeaten 60 saw them reach Printer's 100 without losing a wicket.

Milton Keynes lost to Stoke Hammond by two wickets.

After reaching 136-8 MK's Alan Killick took 3-22 but it only slowed Stoke Hammond's progress.

Tottenhoe recorded their first win of the season at home to Steeple Claydon.

Having reached 164-9 at the end of their innings Tottenhoe were determined to bowl Claydon out.

And they were able to do so to claim a 44 run victory.

Old Bradwell 2nds are struggling in the lower end of the table following defeat to Willen.

Bradwell's slow run rate caught up with them as they ended 123-7, a target Willen matched with five wickets in hand.

The weather stopped Cranfield University's match with Harlington before a ball had been bowled.

DIVISION FIVE

THE points were shared at Newport Pagnell as their 2nds drew with Tring Park 4ths.

Pagnell were first to bat and Dave Chapman's knock of 46 had them on their way.

While Chapman may have top scored Steve Gidding came close with 45 as Pagnell reached 170-6.

Park were slow in their response as they kept the runs ticking over to finish 104-1 ensuring a share of the spoils.

Cublington notched up their fourth victory and in doing so reached 100 points to lead the way in division five.

Their nearest rivals, Little Horwood trail by 35 points.

Stewkley were well beaten by the leaders as they fell all out for 100.

Robin Harry top scored for Cublington with 42no to help his side to a nine wicket win.

Little Horwood lost to Olney Town 2nds, who remain in third.

Olney handed Horwood a five wicket defeat.

DIVISION SIX NORTH

MK Park 3rds had their lead cut to seven points afyer losing the top of the table clash with MK Park 3rds.

Thomas Brookes' 85 helped Park reach 198-9.

The Park bowlers then chipped in to help their side to victory as Luke Grantham claimed 3-12 to dismiss Crawley for 143.

Park took 30 points for their 55 run triumph.

Elstow 2nds claimed 25 points from a seven wicket win at Great Brickhill 3rds.

Brickhill were all out for a poor 64 and Elstow had no trouble reaching the target.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

DIVISION TWO

MK Park made it two wins from two and are now nine points clear at the top.

Park eased to a six wicket win over Dinton thanks to some superb bowling James Clark.

Clark's brilliant spell of medium pace bowling saw him collect career best figures of 7-26.

Ghufran Mohammed's opening spell started the down fall for Dinton as he had them reduced to 18-3.

With Dinton all out for 101 and the weather looking uncertain Park looked for quick runs and skipper Graham Simpson wasted no time with 14 runs from the first over.

An hour delay came on the 17th over when rain interrupted play.

There were 74 runs on the board when Park returned but as they chased down the total four quick wickets fell.

Yet Simpons' unbeaten 58 steered his side to victory.

Stony Stratford Town had their Northamptonshire Premier League match with Burton Latimer abandoned.

NORTHANTS CRICKET

Weather wins as Northants stay off bottom

THIS summer Milton Keynes will almost become a second home to Northamptonshire County Cricket Club.

Northants will play two of their Twenty20 Cup games at Campbell Park.

On Tuesday, June 17 they take on Gloucestershire then two days later on Thursday, June 19 they will play host to Warwickshire.

So MK NEWS has decided to keep you up-to-date with all things Northants.

Northants collected a valuable nine points in their draw with Leicestershire to stay three points ahead of bottom placed Middlesex in the County Championship division two.

Rain and bad light reduced play on the last day of the test to be reduce to just 30 minutes.

It was an inevitable result as Northants had not finished their first innings by close of play.

South African pairing Boeta Dippenaar and HD Ackerman made a solid start for Leicestershire as they ended the first day on 288-4.

If that had been frustrating for Northants, day two would only get worse as a maiden first-class century by Jacques du Toit helped Leicestershire to their highest total, 527, in two seasons.

Spin bowler Nicky Boje took the biggest wickets of the day as Ackerman (62) and du Toit (103) contributed to his 4-120 figures.

The dismissal of Peters ensured Northants started the next day on 144-1.

Two more wickets fell at Grace Road before play was interrupted by the weather.

Just 37.4 overs were possible, enough time for David Sales and Rob White to chalk up unbeaten half-centuries.

Niall O'Brien made 78 before Dillon du Preez had him caught behind and another Paul Nixon catch saw off Riki Wessels.

The Northants wicket-keeper was dismissed by Nadeem Malik having made 33.

Northants were able to pass the 300 mark on day four with David Sales (62) and Rob White (69) sharing a stand of 145 but the game gave way to the poor weather and was abandoned as a draw.

■ CORPORATE packages are available for both of Northants' matches in MK in the corporate marquee with its own private viewing area to the front, situated on the boundary edge.

Packages include Champagne reception, three course dinner, a complimentary bar for the duration and for half an hour after the close of play, tea and coffee, entry and parking tickets, complimentary scorecard, parking this year will be on hard standing across the road from the pitch.

The cost of the package being £100 plus VAT per head, per game, should you wish to attend both games corporately a discount of £20 per head would apply, this is based on a company hosting ten or more guests on each night.

Tickets for general public priced at £12 adult £6 junior in advance, £15 and £7-50 on the day.

F1 RACING

Red Bull looking for a repeat at Monaco

THIS weekend Red Bull Racing will return to the scene of their greatest triumph, Monaco.

Aside from all the usual A-list celebrities, glitz and glamour there is a race to be won at Monte Carlo on Sunday.

It is practically a home Grand Prix for driver David Coulthard as he lives there in between races.

But more importantly for him and the Milton Keynes-based racing outfit it is the place where he secured Red Bull's first ever podium finish.

Yet last year Coulthard was caught up in a 'blocking' storm with Heikki Kovalainen and penalised five place from his original qualified spot.

And Team Principal Christian Horner is more than aware that the race could go either way.

Coulthard in Monaco action last year

Horner said: "Monaco is a lottery and it is always dangerous to go there with too many expectations.

"Two years ago we had a great result when David scored the team's first podium, whereas last year was very frustrating.

"Both drivers like the circuit, with David having won twice and Mark winning the F3000 support race in 2001, so they have a strong track record but it's a unique circuit which makes unique demands, penalising the slightest mistake from man or machine."

However, if form is anything to go by it will be Coulthard's team mate Mark Webber who will be challenging for at least third spot in the streets of Monaco.

The Aussie driver has secured four successive point finished and will be hoping he can add to his tally of ten points in the drivers' world championship standings.

And Horner can see no reason why Webber's point flourish should end now. Mark is in the form of his life at the moment and I think he is driving extremely well."

Horner added, "He has put in some impressive race performances for us in the last four races, and has had a strong start to the season while David has had more than his fair share of bad luck, but he was very much back on form in Istanbul, which is very positive for the Team, as we rely heavily on both our drivers bringing back points."

■ The race is live on ITV1 this Sunday. Coverage starts at 11.55am.

Caught short

YESTERDAY Northamptonshire 2nds were in action at Campbell Park.

Northants' first of a three day test with Durham 2nds was played in glorious sunshine - conditons perfect for a game of cricket.

Durham were first to bat and were set on their way by a brilliant knock by opening batsman Will Smith, pictured, who fell just shy of his century on 99.

Durham were dismissed for 312 but Northants' reply is looking rocky as they ended play on 43-2.

Play resumes today at 11am.

Rangers game in the balance

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons are hoping to finalise their pre-season friendlies within the next two weeks.

The Dons have a number of clubs they are keen to play including Carling Cup winners Tottenham Hotspur and Martin O'Neil's Aston Villa.

Dons boss Paul Ince also wants to organise games with Championship sides Charlton Athletic and Watford.

But it is a possible date with Scottish Premier League outfit and UEFA Cup finalists Rangers that is likely to attract most people to stadiummk.

However, that fixture is now in doubt due to the crowd troubles in Manchester that followed Ranger's defeat in the UEFA Cup final – there are fears that MK would not be able to police the game that could bring record crowds.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Ince said: "It would be fantastic to play Rangers, I'm good friends with Walter Smith and they would create a lot of interest but whether it happens or not we'll have to see. It just shows that these types of clubs want to come to our stadium to play us. We're looking at a number of teams at the moment, it's just a case of working out which dates suit us and getting things confirmed.

"Nothing is set in stone yet."

Before the Dons get stuck into their pre-season programme the players and staff are due to fly out to Portugal at the start of July for eleven days.

There are plans to try and arrange a game while the squad are out there but the main target is get the players' fitness up to scratch and to ensure any new members bond with the team.

And Ince is remaining tight-lipped on new signings: "We need some quick strikers who will provide some real competition next year. Not just in the league but players who will create competition within the team. I want quality players who will raise the other players' games."

Last year he brought in Colin Cameron and Kevin Gallen, who both made the step down from the Championship to League Two, hoping their experience would help gain promotion.

However, this time round Ince admits he could take risks on unproven stars too: "There are quality players in the Championship but then you can look at player in League Two who can make the jump too. I don't want to disrupt the squad we have now too much but at the same time I'm aware that I need four or five new signings."

Saracens to stay in Watford

SARACENS have dismissed rumours linking them to a move to Milton Keynes.

The rugby union side were being touted for a relocation to MK Dons' stadiummk while their ground Vicarage Road is redeveloped.

But the club say they have no plans to leave their home at Watford.

In fact according to the Guinness Premiership 'Primacy of Tenure' rule Saracens would not be allowed to leave Vicarage Road unless they owned a new stadium.

The rule was brought in to ensure the sports' fixtures were not dictated to by football.

Speculation relating to the club's possible future in Milton Keynes has grown since Saracens used stadiummk for their last game of the season.

However, the match only took place in MK due to Watford's involvement in the play-offs.

A spokesman for Saracens said: "There are no plans to move to stadiummk and our current ground share agreement at Vicarage Road runs until 2016.

"There are redevelopment works currently taking place at Vicarage Road and while this will cause some disruption in the short term, when finished there will be much improved facilities for all to enjoy and we are currently in the process of renewing season tickets for the 2008/09 season at Vicarage Road."
